ountain of Life!
THE
GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

N EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive when a new direction is imparted to its course ese epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding ht which changes the whole aspect of the science. The ent is an epoch of this kind and this Great Remedy, offered to the public, in connection with the theory which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revoon in the treatment of the diseases of eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The UNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable racts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral subnce.

he Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy ALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything from days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the ana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its ue has been tested with the happiest effect in the most tinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the st eminent physicians in the world. No matter what in the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S IL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely t certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S EAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept their graves, who had they made a timely use of the UNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real rit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the t ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF FE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting. Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of ROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and eradicate e disease entirely from the system, or no charge made provided they will secure him his pay when they are red.

FOR REFERENCE:

would refer you to L. L. Peck, of Portland, Oregon, d numbers of others, as to what a miraculous fect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the ill of physicians for years.

PIONEER WASHER.
JAMES BRUSIE,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivaled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It is easily worked by one person.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to aid housekeepers and families, and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

The undersigned is now in the city of Portland, where he can be seen at Mr. O. Kilbourn's Store, corner of Front and Yamhill Sts., East side, Portland, and is prepared to furnish the Machine to purchasers and also to sell and dispose of County Rights for the sale of the same.

Minister Adams informs the State Department that he had interposed in behalf of the Fenian prisoners in Ireland. In the case of McCafferty a writ of error was issued at the instance and at the expense of the United States.

It is said that the Cabinet considered Stanberry's opinion to-day. There seems to be no doubt they will decide that military commander's have no power to remove civil officers and appoint other civilians in their place. The Tribune's special says Sheridan has restored Judges Strickling and Bacon to office, being Union men. They were elected by the abolition of their districts by the Texas Legislature.

The Fort Kearney massacre was caused by the Government forcing the military along the Bozeman's route before the treaty was concluded with the Indians. The government policy being to make terms with the several chiefs, they created new chiefs not recognized by the tribes as a means to legislate under cover of this treaty. The troops marched to Fort Kearney. Gen Buford and Gen. Langdon think the Territory north of Nebraska and west or south of the Missouri, over as far as Muscleshell river, including eight thousand square miles, should be assigned exclusively to the Indians. Reports of Indian atrocities are exaggerated by designing persons.

It is understood that Stanberry holds that District Commanders have no right to remove State officials without a trial and their being found guilty of impeding the enforcement of the reconstruction acts. NEW YORK, January 12.—A Washington special says that Gen. Buford, one of the special commissioners to investigate the Fort Phil Kearney massacre, has returned after a full examination. He says there is no necessity for an Indian war if the Indians are protected from the rapacity of the frontier settlers and traders. The present war is a raid on the treasury by frontiersmen.

Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—Late Mexican advices, dated May 22d say Miramon is dangerously ill from a wound, and is expected to die. When Maximilian gave up his sword he said: "I surrender my sword owing to infamous treason, without which to-morrow's sun would have seen you in my hands."

Escobedo ordered a courtmartial to convene on May 20th, for the trial of the Emperor. Maximilian sent through Gen. Diaz a telegram pressing the court to appeal to the Consul at Matamoras to obtain permission for Marine, Rival and others to defend him. Three hundred and forty-seven officers were captured.

Maximilian issued a proclamation as follows: "I came to Mexico, called and protected by Napoleon, who, to the ridicule of France, abandoned me cowardly and infamously upon the demand of the United States. When the news of my death reaches Europe, all monarchs of every age and country will demand of the Napoleonic dynasty an account of my blood and the German and French blood shed in Mexico. Then Napoleon will be covered with shame from head to foot." He concludes with an appeal to the Mexicans to act with prudence and truthfulness.

Other executions were expected, but none others were positively announced. All the French officers are missing. Maximilian and the principal prisoners are confined in churches in different quarters. The wife of Prince Salm Salm, an American lady, related to President Johnson, has interceded with Juarez for her husband and the Emperor. On her return from San Luis, she and the Emperor and the Prince had a long interview. Escobedo believed that terms could be arranged by which the lives of most foreigners would be spared. Most of the troops had gone to the City of Mexico. Escobedo remains and a strong garrison is maintained.

ANOTHER PARDON.—The St. Louis Democrat thus comments upon the President's course on the subject of pardons:

The President, when in St. Louis, made it his blasphemous boast that he had forgiven more men than any other human ruler. He might have added that no other has ever used the power of pardon so infamously. Of all his pardons, the release of Solomon Kohnstamm receives and deserves the most severe censure. The case was one of the most aggravated character. A swindler and forger, who amassed millions of money by fleecing the Government while engaged in a struggle for its very existence, guilty of the meanest and most cruel frauds upon the brave men who enlisted to fight our battles, and having manifested in his long career of villainy, a cooler, more deliberate and systematic rascality than any other man of the many who swindled both the soldiers and the country, he was convicted after a long and patient trial before the United States Court, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. We copy to-day a review of the facts in the case, with the scathing words of Justice Nelson in his charge. And yet the indictment upon which this man was tried and convicted was only one of forty-eight that were entered against him. Convicted of that one, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment, he has now been set at liberty by the wise and just Chief Magistrate of this great country, and, to escape the forty-seven other indictments, equally serious, he has sailed for Europe. It is said that he made by his frauds over two millions of dollars. How much it cost him to buy his pardon we cannot guess, but he probably has a very satisfactory margin remaining, to enable him to live luxuriously the remainder of his days, and to contemplate, as he sips his rare wines, the folly of honesty and the beauty of Executive clemency in the republic beyond the sea!

How was this thing done? Perhaps some of the parties concerned will tell! Perhaps Evarts and Brady, counsel for the prisoner, Secretary McCulloch and R. J. Walker, will tell us why they signed a recommendation for this pardon. Perhaps the agent who managed the affair after Mrs. Cobb failed will come forward and give a history of it. Perhaps the merciful man who gave the pardon will state how many reasons he had for looking with especial favor upon this vilest of scoundrels. Perhaps Kohnstam himself, from the security of his cosy retreat on the continent, will find leisure to send us a statement of the method by which executive clemency can be propitiated in the United States. To scientific research such a statement would be of great value. Some men hint that this Kohnstamm got clear because he was a great scoundrel and not a little one, because he stole enough to protect himself, and then, when convicted, has sense enough to spend a quarter of a million in getting a pardon. Of course the suggestion is a malicious and wanton slander upon our country. Justice never is partial in this democratic land. The rich man fares no better than the poorman, as everybody knows. Palsied be the tongue that would insinuate that a man who has a quarter of a million to spend can get clear, while one who has nothing must pay the penalty of his crimes. If this man had been some poor, half starved, hopeless wretch, who had stolen bread for his children, the thrice-merciful and ever-blessed President, friend of poor men and of soldiers, would have pardoned him without recommendations or other influential reasons, of course!

BRYANT.—The poet Bryant says, in a recent letter from Rome:

It may have been a fancy, but it seemed to me that I saw in the faces of the more thoughtful-looking ecclesiastics something different from the confident and assured tone which I had beheld in other years—a [illegible] discouragement, as if some anticipation [illegible] the future. I saw the Pope and several of the clergy of the highest rank at the close of a ceremonial in which they officiated at St. Peter's, [illegible] passing out of a side chapel, across the [illegible] great building, they came near us. The Pope did not certainly look in bad health, he has an erect attitude—you may know, perhaps that he is a short and rather stout man—and he walked with a firm step between a multitude of gazers, with his attendant priest on his right and left. He may last several years yet, but his warmest partisans cannot fail to see that the revolution which has deprived the Primate of the Latin Church of the far larger part of his temporal possessions is yet to be completed by taking away the rest, and that with the death of Pius IX. the pontificial authority in civil matters must come to an end.

SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 15 1867

Retrenchment

In yesterday's paper we promised our readers an outline of the financial policy pursued by the Democratic retrenchers here since they came into power a half year ago. This period reaches back so short a distance and the salient points in the management of the city's finances during this period are so fresh in the minds of the citizens of Portland that it may seem unnecessary to bring them more prominently before the people. Nevertheless, there are some facts whose importance bespeaks for them especial attention.

On the 3d day of January last, Thomas J Holmes having just been elevated to the office of Mayor, issued his first manifesto in the shape of a message to the Common Council. This entire document is a piece of captious demagoging on the subject of hard times, burdensome taxation and reckless extravagance in the city government. He starts out with the assertion that one of the most serious causes of the decline of business "may be found in the ruinous amounts collected of our citizens in the way of taxes and assessments." The utter falsity of this statement, is proved by the fact that the decline of business is not confined to this city or State. "Hard times" is and was at that time the general complaint of all sections of our county, east and west,—in Oregon less than in any other section, and in Portland less than any other part of Oregon. He then proceeds to state that the taxes levied upon upon the property amounted to $100,000, which sum he divides into State, county, school, Federal and city taxes. In this estimate is included not only taxes of every kind, but all Government licenses, and even fines and penalties imposed by law, and seventy five thousand dollars paid by individuals voluntarily upon their own petitions for street improvements, which have nothing to do with the city taxes. Nearly all the so-called "taxes," mentioned in this manifesto, are matters over which the City Council have no more control than has the Sultan of Turkey. Following this parade of irrevelant buncombe, is the following:

> "Is this a necessary expense? or is it a ruinous expense unnecessarily imposed on the tax payers of our city? Is there no room for retrenchment? Must this ruinous expense remain fixed on our city to eat up its substance and retard its growth?"

The italics in the above quotation are ours, but the language is Holmes'. We do not mean by this to rob Hallock of the honor of composing this famous document, bearing his unmistakable ear marks, but only that when Holmes fathered it, it became his. This paragraph from the message implies as plainly as implication can be made, that all these burdens are peculiar to the city government. Now what was the object of thus telling a falsehood, so damaging to the reputation and prospects of the city, at home and abroad. There could be but one object, namely, to humbug the people, preparatory to the great Democratic "retrenchment" move now being made. If Mr Holmes did not intend this falsehood to be so understood, what business had he to meddle with the question of State, county, school, or Federal taxes, in a message upon the municipal government of the city? Does he intend if he is elected Mayor, to abrogate the laws under which State and county taxes are collected, and repeal the revenue laws enacted by Congress? If he has such intention, he has not sense enough to be Mayor, if he has not such intention, why should he meddle with the matter except for the purpose of deceiving?

He next directs the attention of the Council "to a few of the items of this extravagant and unnecessary expenditure of money", and specifies under this head, the pay of the Surveyor, board of city prisoners, &c. The records show that the pay of the Surveyor was fixed under the old Democratic rule, and Mr. Holmes, though long in the Council, never found any fault with it so long as the money went into Democratic pockets. And now, although he has had a majority in the Council for six months, not a step has been taken toward retrenchment in this item.

The board of city prisoners was reduced twenty-five cents each, per day, by the Republican Council, and did not at the date of that message cost so much, by that amount, as it did in Democratic days. If this item of expenditure is exorbitant, why has not the Mayor with his subservient Council, reduced it? Nothing has been done in this direction during all this six months of clamor about "retrenchment." These are but specimen items, the rest are in the same order. And if there are any who are unconvinced by the statements we have made, the records are open for their inspection, and we will be thankful to any person who will show us wherein we are wrong.

Their Old Record

In 1862 T J Holmes and A. B Hallock were members of the City Council. The city's affairs were managed at their dictation, and the complaint thereat became very general. The dissatisfaction was so great that in 1863 neither Holmes nor Hallock could be re-elected. Knowing this they were forced to stand back, yet they did not lose their control of the affairs of the city. By adroit management men were put forward whom they could and did use as instruments, and while Dodge, Knott & Co were leaders in the Council they acted as junior members of the firm of which Holmes and Hallock were principals. Like the jumping jacks in the toy shops they danced while Holmes and Hallock pulled the strings. This was in 1863.

As the election of 1864 approached a large number of citizens determined to make an effort to get a Council which could not be moved at the pleasure of this selfish clique. Meetings were therefore held, and men were recommended for the Council who were known to possess good qualifications for the position and who could not be managed or manipulated as a majority of the former Council had been. About this time a caucus was held in the First Ward to nominate Councilmen and Holmes and Hallock, having their followers in training, took possession of the meeting and secured nominations for themselves. The election came on, and these two ambitious individuals were beaten just two votes to one in their own ward. This is the record of those times. All old citizens remember it. The management of Holmes and Hallock while in the Council in 1862 63 had not been forgotten, and though a full year had elapsed since they had gone out of office, the remembrance of their old record defeated them. A vote against them of two to one was the response which citizens gave to their claims for office. This was the estimate which was then placed upon their past services. In 1863 the feeling against them was so strong that they did not venture to run at all. In 1864 they hazarded a trial, and though they had the advantage of a regular or caucus nomination, they were beaten out of sight. The people were then determined to introduce reform, and they very properly began by defeating Holmes, Hallock & Co. This action on the part of citizens shows conclusively what was thought of these men and their administration while their management was freshly remembered. They had used their opportunity to reward themselves and their friends, they had involved the business of the city in inextricable confusion, they had plunged the city in debt as we have conclusively proven by the figures, and had shown a want of honesty or a want of capacity (they may have it as they please) in the positions they had occupied. Supposing these things are forgotten this same clique now seek to recover full control of the city. They have their friends to reward and their enemies to punish and their sole motive, as of old, is power and spoils.

A Shallow Expedient

We have shown that when the Holmes and Hallock clique were defeated and driven from office in 1864 the debt of the city amounted to nearly $20,000. No record existed whereby the indebtedness could be accurately known, and it came to light only as the warrants which had been drawn by the clique were presented for payment. The Herald quotes from Mayor Logan's message of 1863 to show that when Holmes and Hallock went out of office there was over $5,000 in the treasury in legal tender notes and endeavors to convey the impression that the city was then clear of debt and had this surplus of cash on hand. But it omits to state that in the same message Mayor Logan said "no regular books of account had been kept by the city from which an exhibit in detail of the receipts and expenditures could be obtained." Hence neither Mayor Logan nor any one else knew what the debt of the city was. The Herald also quotes from Mayor Failing's message of 1864, to show that there was $5,000 in legal tender notes in the treasury at the beginning of the previous year, but likewise omits to state that Mayor Failing announced in the same message that there was no means of ascertaining the indebtedness of the city. Further, it omits to state that warrants to the amount of nearly fourteen thousand dollars were at that time outstanding, which were left as a legacy by Holmes, Hallock & Co, and which have since been paid. Those who have conducted the administration of the city during the last three years have cleared it of debt, and now the very men through whose incompetency or mal administration this indebtedness was incurred declare that there has been extravagance in the management of the finances of the city, when the increased taxation which they bewail and condemn was necessary to pay off the debts which they themselves created! Their old debts were paid by their successors in office, and now these "retrenchers" turn about and denounce the proceeding as the height of extravagance.

When Mayor Logan came into office, the $5,000 in legal tender notes then in the treasury were worth about fifty cents on the dollar. Those who held warrants against the city, not liking to receive this depreciated currency in payment, did not present their claims, but waited till the city got into better hands and could pay its debts in gold. These warrants were then presented, and the old debts created by the "retrenchers" were paid off. It is an indisputable fact that debts to the amount of nearly $20,000 have been paid since 1864 which accrued prior to that time. If we set aside the question as to who is responsible for the existence of these debts, the fact remains that they did exist, that they have been paid, and that this circumstance accounts for a great part of the increased taxation since 1864.

Will the Herald assert that the city was not in debt when Mayor Failing was elected? If it will not assert this and prove its assertion from the records (which of course it cannot do) the "facts" which it parades to bolster up the Holmes and Hallock clique are not of the smallest consequence. It boasts that when these men went out of office there was $5,000 in legal tender notes in the treasury, but says nothing about the debts outstanding against this sum. This is a most shallow expedient, and is as dishonest as it is shallow. Yet this Democratic no party clique have nothing better than this to offer in their defence.

Precept and Practice

The organ of the Portland Democracy has lately had much to say about the evils of adhering to party. From the tone of some of its articles one would be led to suppose that the whole life of its editor had been a protest against party organizations. In one place he virtuously declares that "he who will not yield his party for the public good is not actuated by patriotism." In another place he denounces his opponents for seeking to carry elections "through party dragooning," and declares that there is nothing of a partisan character about the Democratic ticket which has been presented. Turning back, however, to his issue of the day before the late election in Washington Territory, we find him making the most frantic appeals to the Democracy to vote for their candidates. And when the election was over, and it was ascertained that Clark was defeated, this same deprecator of party politics furiously and bitterly denounced certain Democrats who were alleged to have "bolted" the ticket. Because some of them were supposed not to have voted for the "regular candidate" he proceeded to read them out of the party. This is the paper which would not have party politics mentioned. This is the paper which asserts that every man ought to yield his party for the public good. Yet when Democrats in Washington Territory so yielded, the Herald railed at them in the most bitter language. So now, if its party had a majority in this city, it would be engaged in the work of whipping in the dissatisfied and compelling them to vote the straight ticket, and any who refused to be "dragooned" would be denounced for their treachery and read out of the party. We all remember the rigid discipline of old Democratic times.

The Good Old Times

Some of the old practices of Holmes, Hallock & Co, capitally illustrate their ideas of "economy." In the good old times when they managed the city government, they used to farm out the lucrative places among themselves. While members of the Council, they were in the habit of procuring their own election to the various offices in the city which were filled by appointment by that body. For instance, in 1857 and 1858 Holmes, as the records show, secured for himself the office of City Tax Collector and of course realized handsomely from it. Hallock obtained the office of City Surveyor, and both these distinguished "reformers" held these lucrative places while acting as members of the Council. For a number of years Hallock continued to act as Surveyor, securing his re election from year to year by his usual sharp practice, and holding the position of Councilman at the same time.

It was during these good old times that the Surveyor's pay of ten dollars per day was fixed, and of which his Honor the Mayor complained in his retrenchment message of January last. Because his bosom friend Mr Hallock, was not in the office he thought the pay was extravagantly high, though he made no remonstrance against it while he and Hallock were sucking that orange together.

The Annual Meeting of the Christian Church of this State will be held at Dallas commencing on Thursday before the fifth Sunday in June. Papers throughout the State are requested to circulate this notice.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER after a thorough trial by innumerable living witnesses has proved itself THE MEDICINE OF THE AGE. Although there have been many medicinal preparations brought before the public since the first introduction of Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer and large amounts expended in their introduction the Pain Killer has continued to steadily advance in the estimation of the world as the best Family Medicine ever introduced. It is an internal and external remedy. One positive proof of its efficacy is, that the sales have constantly increased and wholly upon its own merits. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient when taken internally in case of Cold Cough, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system has been truly wonderful and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain as an external remedy in case of Burns, Bruises, Sores, Sprains, Cuts, Sting of Insects and other causes of suffering, has secured for it such a host of testimony, as an almost infallible remedy that it will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest medical discoveries of the nineteenth century.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Typographical Errors.—Every writer for the press has had his vexatious experiences with the sometimes comical and sometimes serious antics of the types, called typographical errors. Mr. L. Stone in a recent lecture—justice couldn't be done the subject in a dozen lectures—gave the following amusing examples: "A lad in a printing office, who knew more about type-setting than he did of the Greek mythology, in looking over a poem they were printing, came upon the name of Hecate, one of the lady divinities of the lower world, occurring in a line like this: "She shall reign the Hecate of the deep—[illegible]." The boy, thinking he had discovered an error, ran to the master printer, and inquired eagerly if "there was an E in cat." "Why, no, you blockhead," was the reply. Away went the boy to the press-room and extracted the objectionable letter. But fancy the [illegible] of both poet and publisher when the poem appeared with the line—"She shall reign the He Cat of the [illegible] of Hell." This, however, was not so bad as the [illegible] in which the printer treated Miss Landor. In speaking of it she says, "And when I had written it full blown roses," the nasty things made it "full blown noses." Benjamin Franklin once putting to press a form of the Common Prayer, the letter C in the following passage dropped out unperceived by him, "We shall all be changed in the twinkling of an eye." When the book appeared, to the horror of the devout worshipers, the passage read: "We shall all be hanged in the twinkling of an eye." Franklin has been suspected of having done this intentionally, but it appears to be without good [illegible].

But, after all, when it is considered of how many separate and minute pieces of metal a book form or the page of a newspaper is composed, the wonder is that the errors of the Press are not far more numerous than they are. A single page of one of our largest papers cannot [illegible] less than 800,000 separate pieces of metal, each of which must be nicely adjusted in its own proper place, [illegible] error and confusion will ensue.

Oregon City.—The following items are from the [illegible]: [illegible] Hall in this city was the scene of [illegible] of fancy goods, and articles usually contributed to make a [illegible] Fair, when prepared by fair [illegible] Thursday evening last. The occasion was a [illegible] in aid of St. Paul's Chapel......On last Thursday Deputy Sheriff Deal of Sacramento, passed through [illegible] en route for Salem with Hildalin Aug. Whitbe, [illegible] about a year ago for bigamy, and who, after [illegible] weeks imprisonment, escaped. Sheriff Deal found his highness in California, and the opportunity to [illegible] a little Oregon air, and receive a bonus for [illegible], was too good a hand to pass......On [illegible] last the Oregon City Paper Manufacturing [illegible] started their machinery on the production of [illegible] paper, which, like the previous productions of [illegible], is vastly superior to any that can be purchased [illegible] for the same money. There has been an impression abroad that the paper mill was running short [illegible]. This is a mistake. With the exception of the [illegible] Woolen Mills, which is running but half of the [illegible], all the machinery is pressed to its full capacity—[illegible] demand for more. The Paper Company employ two [illegible] of hands, and run their works night and day. On Tuesday we found Mr. Wortman preparing [illegible] for shipment to San Francisco by the next [illegible], being a duplicate of an order that had gone forward by the Oriflamme. The Company have on hand [illegible] reams of straw paper, and hope within the next [illegible] to have a stock of manilla sufficient to keep in advance of orders. The prices at present ruling are, for [illegible] wrapping $1 50 per ream; manilla, 20 cents, per pound, the average being 16 pounds per ream.

A New Thing Under the Sun.—The old saying that "there is nothing new under the sun," won't do to tie to. There is something entirely new, as appears by the following extract from a letter received by us, yesterday, from by an old Oregonian, at present at Watertown, New York: "I send you this day per mail, samples of paper flour sacks which an enterprising firm of this place are trying to introduce into your State and California through a prominent firm of your city—Messrs. Allen & Lewis. Having lived in Oregon for some years, and been connected with flouring interests, I am confident a great saving could be made to the consumers, in the use of paper sacks as a substitute for cotton. For city use they certainly will answer as well as cotton; and, I think if proper care were taken they could be made to stand the most wearing of all journies, a trip to the [illegible]. A great many are used at Salt Lake City, and a test of their enduring qualities is to be made this season [illegible] to Montana per freight wagons; and I have [illegible] receiving favorable reports from them." The [illegible] above as sent us, have not yet arrived, [illegible] sent out to Messrs. Allen & Lewis come to [illegible] they arrive, we will inform our readers what they are like.

The Philharmonic Concert.—Oro Fino Hall was filled to its greatest capacity, last evening, on the occasion of the concert of the Philharmonic Society, for the benefit of the poor of the city. The performance, in most part, was better suited to popular the understanding, than the former concerts given by the Society and was, therefore, in that respect a greater success. Of the artistic execution of the pieces, we shall not venture to speak, because we remember the old adage about the danger of venturing [illegible] one's depth. Those who are conversant with musical science speak in high terms (and incomprehensible ones, too,) of the concert in general, and we are content to give their opinions as strictly correct. The best part of the affair is the relief which the funds realized will carry to the needy, and the gratitude that the poor of the city will shower upon the members of the Philharmonic Society. We doubt if any of them will crave any higher or better praise.

[illegible] Academy.—We are informed that measures are being taken to secure the establishment of a classical [illegible] academy in this city and that Prof. Grub will go below on the steamer of next Tuesday to engage a corps of teachers. We are not in possession of the full plan of the school, but learn that beside music and the languages, the other branches usually taught in such an [illegible], will receive attention. Students from other [illegible] will be furnished rooms, on the plan of a boarding school. As we understand it, to impart a thorough musical education is the leading object of the institution. Prof. Grub intends to return by the first steamer after the 4th of July, and will, if possible, put the school in [illegible] near the close of July.

[illegible] Items.—The steamer Grant left Astoria Thursday morning and arrived same night. When she left, the ship Yankee had not yet come in sight......The body of young Abernethy had not been found......An Indian [illegible] the trip across from Tillamook to Astoria, being only twelve hours from one point to the other—the quickest time ever made......The Grant received a slight injury to [illegible] just as she was approaching the mouth of the Willamette, by reason of a piece of sunken timber which got caught in her screw, stopping it and breaking some of the gearing. In consequence of the accident, she will not start again for Astoria till next Wednesday.

Recorder's Court.—In the Recorder's Court, yesterday, the following proceedings were had:

E. Ivels, brought up from Sauvie's Island, Thursday night, had an examination on a charge of assault upon [illegible] Whitcomb with a dangerous weapon—and was held to answer to the Circuit Court, bail being fixed at $500. Another charge—threatening to kill the same [illegible]—was examined, but not sustained.

A man who called himself John Green, for being drunk and lying on the sidewalk, was fined $5 and costs.

A [illegible] Course of Lectures.—Hon. J. H. Mitchell will, on Tuesday next, go to Salem where he is engaged to deliver a course of lectures before the medical students of the college, on Medical Jurisprudence. (The course embraces twelve lectures—enough work, one would think, for half a year's preparation. Mr. Mitchell, in addition to his 24 [illegible] reading on that subject as a lawyer, has given long and close attention to it, with a view to the delivery of these lectures.

Body Found.—The body of a drowned man was found on Thursday, near St. Helens, supposed to be the body of the man who was lost some time ago from the Okanagan. The body was made fast to the bank and the authorities of Columbia county were notified of the fact and an inquest was probably held yesterday.

[illegible].—The Secretary of the Pioneer Base Ball Club, [illegible] us to notify the players that they are expected to be on their grounds for practice this afternoon, in full force. The match with the Clackamas Club is to come off on Monday, and this afternoon will be the last opportunity for preparatory practice.

U. S. Circuit Court—Deady, Justice.—The following are the proceedings in the U. S. Circuit Court, yesterday: L. Shultz and Henry Weber were admitted to citizenship. In Starr vs. Hamilton et al., the counsel [illegible] their arguments and submitted the case to the [illegible].

Awnings.—A dozen or more persons on Front and First streets, notwithstanding the dull times, are putting up very high-toned awnings in front of their stores. They seem resolved to put on airs, biz or no biz.

Salt.—The steamship Ajax was dropped down, yesterday, to the salt works of Messrs. McCraken, Merrill & Co., for the purpose of discharging salt, of which they [illegible] one hundred tons.

[illegible] Freights.—Arrived per steamer Senator from Oregon City, Monday, June 14th: 30 bales of wool, 8,803 qr sks flour, 208 bags wheat, 308 sks oats, 1 bale woolen goods.

Steamer for Harrisburg.—The Senator will connect [illegible] City, to-day, with the Echo, for Harrisburg and [illegible] landings.

Pic-Nic.—Pleasure seekers will bear in mind that a [illegible] will be given by Webber & Co., at the East Portland Park, to-morrow.

[illegible].—There is a message in the telegraph office for A. J. [illegible]

A Rise in the Prices of Clothing.—Barman Bros. are [illegible] of those who wish good and cheap clothing. We will prove to you as a fact that we are selling goods at Panic Prices, by calling on us at the corner of Front and Morrison Sts. P.S.—We will not run after you in the streets to sell [illegible]. We never were on Chatham street, New [illegible]—that [illegible] style of doing business.

The Piccadilly Hat.—Mossadorffer Bros. have received a new lot of Hats by steamer Ajax, among which is the Piccadilly Hat; a style entirely new in design and suitable for this market. The style was introduced at their store in San Francisco last Saturday, June 8th, and was introduced at the store here to-day, June 15th. Remember, at Mossadorffer's, 72 Front street.

"Economical and Useful."—Those who study the commendable virtue of economy, and at the same time have an eye to the beautiful, are sure to provide themselves with Howe & Stevens' Family Dye Colors. They constantly save the necessity of buying new garments. Sold by Smith & Davis.

An Old Nurse for Children.—Don't fail to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. No mother, who has ever tried it, will consent to let her child pass through this critical period without the aid of this invaluable preparation. Gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child. Cures wind colic, and regulates the bowels. 35 cents a bottle. Hostetter, Smith & Dean, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Colds and Coughs.—Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary and Bronchial affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies act speedily when taken in the early stage of the disease, take at once "Brown's Bronchial Troches," let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be warded off.

Mrs. Ada W. Rice, of 503 West 23d street, New York, testifies as follows:

Q.—From your experience with Family Sewing Machines, and their work, which do you prefer, and give the reasons for your opinion?

A.—Grover & Baker; for the elasticity of the stitch, the ability to rip when necessary, and because it does not cut the material; the embroidery; and using cotton without rewinding; and because the machinery is less intricate. W. Currier & Co., Agents, 103 Front St.

Janette's Hair.

"Oh, loosen the snood that you wear, Janette,
Let me tangle my hand in your hair, my pet"—
For the world to me had no daintier sight
Than your brown hair veiling your shoulders white,
As I tangled a hand in your hair, my pet.

It was brown with golden gloss, Janette,
It was finer than silk of the floss, my pet,
'Twas a beautiful mist falling down to your wrist,
'Twas a thing to be braided and jeweled and kissed
'Twas the loveliest hair in the world, my pet.

My arm was the arm of a clown, Janette,
It was sinewy, bristled and brown, my pet,
But warmly and softly it loved to caress
Your round white neck and your wealth of tress,
Your beautiful plenty of hair, my pet

Your eyes had a swimming glory, Janette,
Revealing the old dear story, my pet,
They were grey, with that chastened tinge of the sky,
When the trout leaps quickest to catch the fly—
And they matched with your golden hair my pet

Your lips—but I have no words, Janette,
They were fresh as the twitter of birds, my pet,
When the spring is young and the roses are wet
With dew drops in each red bosom set,
And they suited your gold brown hair, my pet.

Oh, you tangled my life in your hair, Janette,
'Twas a silken and golden snare, my pet;
But so gentle the bondage my soul did implore
The right to continue the slave evermore,
With my fingers enmeshed in your hair, my pet.

* * * * * * *

Thus ever I dream what you were, Janette,
With your lips, and your eyes, and your hair, my pet,
In the darkness of desolate years I moan,
And my tears fall bitterly over the stone
That covers your golden hair, my pet.
—Miles O'Reilly.

The Chicago "Strike"—An Estimate of what it has thus far Cost:

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

The cost of the eight-hour demonstration on Wednesday is an item that, perhaps, not one of the most sanguine "reformers" thought of beforehand. Our own estimate of the numbers in the procession, and of those thronging the sidewalks, was from ten thousand to fifteen thousand; and in this estimate the press of the city generally concur. Probably as many as twenty thousand working men were off work for the day—some, opposed to the whole movement, remaining at their homes; and others still preferring to spend the day in places of amusement to marching seven and a half miles through the dusty street. But adhering to the original number, fifteen thousand, what is the average rate of wages paid to these men for a day's work? Put it approximately at $3; indeed this figure will be found near enough to accuracy for our present purpose. Multiply fifteen thousand by $3 and we have $45,000. That, then, is the loss in wages on Wednesday. But the processionists suffered other losses. It would be bootless to attempt to catalogue all of them, or to give accurately their total. It would not, however, be wide of the mark to state the cost of the procession, wagons, horses, music, etc., at $2,000. Banners, mottoes, machine-mounted vehicles, and time spent in the preparations foot up another $2,000. No doubt that a considerable portion of these thousands of workingmen never indulge in alcoholic beverages, but of those who do, it is probable that the majority laid out at least double their customary allowance for drinks. So that we hazard nothing of truth by estimating that $3,000 was expended in this manner. Add this to the cost of the procession, and this again to the $45,000 lost in wages, and we reach the sum total of what the demonstration cost the workingmen. Fifty-two thousand dollars is the enormous figure! The workingmen are that much poorer by reason of Wednesday's proceedings. It is not necessary to calculate how much flour and meat, how many necessaries, and even luxuries, they could buy with $52,000.

Even the above, which is a part of the only deplorable result of Wednesday's great frolic, ought to be sufficient to warn any who may be inclined to repeat the exertions and reproduce the scenes that day, against so foolish and expensive a business. But, look at the result.

The following estimate must, of course, be merely guess-work. But be sure it is rather an abatement than an exaggeration of the truth. The actual loss in consequence of the cessation of production for even this brief period, the idle capital in the shape of machinery not in motion, materials of various kinds awaiting conversion into myriad useful articles, the actual loss from these causes is not less (there is reason to believe it is vastly greater) than $52,000 more. The grand cost, then, to the workingmen, to the employers—to Chicago—of the huge demonstration on the 1st of May of the advocates of the eight-hour system, is the truly magnificent sum of over one hundred thousand dollars. And the plots, since the demonstration, have cost not less than one hundred thousand dollars per day, and probably more.

THE JOURNEYMEN PRINTERS.

[From the same paper.]

There are 400 journeymen printers and pressmen in Chicago, at this time, each earning on an average, twenty-one dollars per week, or, $3,50 per day. Some of them make nearly twice this amount, and others who are subbing or working but three, four or five days per week, earn less than the average. The wages of the craft are therefore fourteen hundred dollars per day, or $8,400 per week. In a year their wages amount to nearly half a million of dollars; one fourth of which comes out of the Tribune office alone. The printers took no part in the demonstration of Wednesday, and are thereby $2,800 richer; but had they joined the movement they would have lost Wednesday's earnings, and spent Tuesday's besides. They took no part in the riots of Thursday and Friday, but continued steadily at work, thereby earning in those two days $2,800 and saving [illegible] more. They commence work this [illegible] $8 400 richer than they would have been, [illegible] the eight-hour "strike," to say [illegible] of good feeling, confi[illegible] existing between them and their employers. [illegible] they not set an example that other work[illegible] advantage?

LABOR IN NEW YORK.

The New York [illegible] cutters and flaggers report that the demand for $4 per day has been acceded to by their employers and they are now all at work. The brownstone cutters struck on May 1st for $3 50; they now receive $4; a few employers have granted the advance, but a majority of the journeymen are now idle. The tinsmiths and metal roofers, although they recently declared it impolitic to strike for higher wages, have not abandoned the idea, but are still meditating a demand for $4 a day. The tool-sharpeners of New York have succeeded in getting three dollars per day, the advance asked for. The New York stair builders, who recently asked for four dollars per day, did not receive it on Saturday last, as was expected, and they have determined to quit work. The New York laborers are still out of work, the employers as a general rule, refusing them the increased wages asked for. The New York shoemakers, composed of several different societies, some of them German, are deliberating upon a strike for about 15 per cent. increase of wages. The ladies' shoemakers, who recently asked an increase of 15 per cent, have been very generally given it. The labor troubles in Chicago about the Eight-hour law have not caused any further rioting, but great numbers of workingmen are still out of work, while the places of many are being filled by persons from the country, who agreed to work on the old system. In East St. Louis it is announced that the workingmen have been persuaded to resume work by accepting reduced wages for eight hours' labor. It is announced from England that the strike of the engine-drivers on the Northeastern Railway is at an end. New men have been employed, and the company did not accede to the demands of the old drivers, who are nearly all now idle.

A Southern Radical's View.—Mr. Thomas J. Durant, of Louisiana, in his address before the Anti-Slavery Society, in New York, May 8th, thus gave the views of a life-time anti-slavery man of the South, and a representative of extreme Southern Radicalism, on the Reconstruction Acts:

The bills of reconstruction, familiarly known as the military reconstruction of the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congress, are, in my judgment—while they contain valuable and essential principles—most lame in their details. They have left in existence the rebel organizations of the State Governments in the South, and hence all the influence of power, of patronage, and of peace, is thrown against the march of improvement in those States. Another great mistake (I trust those who dissent will look with indulgence upon my views) is that in the theory and practical operation of those bills the military power has been made superior to the civil—which, I think, is a very bad school of instruction for the ignorant, whether they be white or black, in any country. I was always of opinion, and am still, that those rebel Governments should have been swept aside, bursting asunder the lilliputian ties that confined the strength of the strong and loyal men of the South. I always have been and am still of the opinion that the Government should have been one civil in its character, supported but not dominated by the military arm, and kept there until the people, black and white, were fit for republican equality. But this bill contains the great idea, the admirable principle of equality. Under the influence of this bill nothing but good can result, so far as that principle shall be carried out in it; and the commencement of carrying it out has already been made.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

Portland, Friday, 2 P. M.,
June 14, 1867.

The gold market has been for some days steady in New York at about 136¼. On the 11th, it closed at 134¼. At San Francisco on that say, legal tenders were quiet at 73½, buying, and 73¾, selling. These are the latest quotations we have.

Taking a general view of the trade of the city, the past week shows a slight improvement, but the changes for better are not enjoyed by all classes of merchants. Jobbers in produce are discouraged about the prospects for the balance of the season. Prices in the great Eastern markets have gone down to a point which precludes hopes of profit on shipments from this coast, and producers and dealers must, therefore, depend alone upon exportation to China and the adventitious demands of the Pacific coast markets.

Flour—The arrivals for the week have been large, all to go below at the first opportunity. Considerable quantities sold to arrive. The Ajax will load mostly with flour and wheat. Imperial, Standard and most all other brands are marked from 25c to 50c lower.

Wheat—Market rather full and prices seriously depressed. We quote a decline of 15c ⅌ bushel.

Agricultural implements—Steady, with fair demand.

Hardware—Very quiet, without change.

Butter—Excessively dull; Isthmus, 5@7½c lower.

Bacon—Market still heavily overstocked, and prices going down; we quote sides and hams, 1c lower.

Dried fruit—Quiet; stock plentiful; demand limited.

Lard—In cans, is 1c lower; in bulk, do, with no demand.

Sugars—Island, firm at 1c advance, consequent upon a limited supply. All other brands unchanged.

Salmon—Market well supplied with a better article than ever before offered; prices have gone down very materially. We quote hlf bbls, $5 50; bbls, $11 50.

A general view of the breadstuff markets may be gathered from the following extracts from California papers of the latest dates received:

The Times of the 7th says: The export breadstuff of appears to be rapidly waning. No vessel at present on the berth for England and but little disposition manifested to purchase either wheat or flour for New York, consequently prices droop and stocks accumulate.

In regard to the growing crops, accounts are somewhat conflicting. The following is from the Sacramento Bee: There is a general belief among agriculturists that a large portion of the cereals upon the upland is suffering for want of moisture, and consequently that half a day's steady rain would be of vast advantage to the country. Many grain fields show signs of ripening prematurely, and not a few parties have been forced, therefore, to enter on the harvest and turn some of their crops into hay which had been intended for grain. These dry north winds sweeping down across the parched earth scorched everything before them. One day of them is worse upon the grain fields than a week of sunshine, and we have had them but too often of late. In consequence of these things, the crop of cereals will not be so great as the public had reason to anticipate.

The Delta, of May 29th, says of the crops in Tulare county: The harvest in Tulare has begun. The barley is a splendid crop, better than ever before known in the county. A great many acres are falling every day before the cradle and reaper. In ten days the threshers will be doing their work, and the new crop will be quickly in market. The wheat is ripening well, though in a few instances it failed to fill heavily. Grain will be plenty.

The Bulletin of the 6th says: The receipts of wheat at this port for the week ending last evening were 24,020 sks. This is the smallest aggregate for any single week since commencement of the harvest year. For the 24 hours ending yesterday, no receipts were reported. Only once has an omission of this kind occurred during the past 12 months. Our receipts of California flour for the past week were 21,128 qr sks, equal to 15,840 sks of wheat. In the corresponding week last year our receipts of wheat were 21,543 sks, an amount nearly identical with the receipts for the past week. Since January 1st we have received 1,857,871 sks of wheat against 736,880 sks for the same time in 1866, an increase this year of 1,120,985 sks. Our exports for the past week were confined to two cargoes to Liverpool and two small invoices to New York, aggregating 67,195 sks, valued at $134,452, against 12,663 sks for the corresponding week last year. The shipments of flour for the past week aggregate 25,101½ bbls, over 22,000 bbls of which was on New York account, chiefly via Cape Horn. Our wheat shipments since January 1st aggregate 1 973,708 sks valued at $3,868,096. For so short a period these figures are unprecedently large, especially for the season of the year embraced With one exception, our wheat shipments for the past five months exceed our combined exports of flour and wheat for any entire harvest year prior to July 1, 1866. From January 1st to June 4th, 1866, our wheat shipments 547,063 sks, or 1,426,715 sks les than they were for the same time this year. Our receipts of California flour and wheat from July 1, 1866, to June 4, 1867, both dates inclusive reckoned as wheat, were 5,623,001 sks of 100 lbs each, and our shipments 4,950,584 sks. In the meantime we have received of Oregon flour and wheat equal to 156,494 sks of wheat. These figures leave us 804,911 sks for local consumption and stock on hand Including the shipping of the port, it is estimated than San Francisco consumes 12,000 bbls of flour per month. Deducting consumption at this rate for 11 months, from the above surplus, we have 468,911 sks of wheat as apparent stock on hand in the shape of flour and wheat. A considerable portion of this amount has doubtless been used up either for food and distilling purposes, or in coastwise shipments of flour, which latter are not included in our exports. The stock of flour and wheat in this city is not large; and perhaps has seldom been less during a year past. We have a sufficiency, however, for all our wants, and to spare; and in the absence of any pressing export demand, coupled with the near approach of harvest, there are strong reasons for anticipating a material reduction in prices at no distant day.

The Alta of the 7th says of flour The market rules quiet, both with respect to demand for export and local consumption.

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

Portland, June 14, 1867.

In this market, we have carefully revised quotations, because of frequent complaints of wool producers, in substance, that quotations are incorrect. They say that it is generally believed that a combination exists among buyers to quote wool lower than its actual value, for purposes of speculation, and some have gone so far as to insinuate that the Portland papers are in the ring. If any such combination exists, we are utterly ignorant of it. We submit each week our figures to the inspection of various merchants, of the most reliable character, and we publish in our reports whatever quotations they give us. Upon extensive inquiry, we find no reason to question the correctness of the figures furnished us. This paper, at least, has not a cent's interest in misquoting a single article in the whole list. An impression prevails, we find, that wool is worth 20 cents in the California market. To correct that, we quote from the San Francisco Times of June 7th, as follows:

The receipts of wool from the interior continue to be upon a liberal scale, the clip considerably larger than any heretofore marketed in this State. Unfortunately for the wool grower, prices both here and at the East are far from remunerative, with a gloomy prospect in the future. By many it is thought that the world's production of this staple is now beyond manufacturing requirement. Certain it is that with the large number of woolen mills closed at the present in the New England States, prices droop in the Atlantic States beyond precedent. Advices at hand by the last mail from New York are very discouraging to wool operators, and it is presumed by many shippers that prices now ruling in this market are, to say the least, 3@5c ⅌ lb higher than rates East will warrant with a view to purchase and shipment to Boston or New York. Our present stock of wool in this city cannot be less than 7,000 bales, and daily augmenting. The market droops and prices are altogether nominal; purchases inconsiderable.

The Alta California of the 6th inst., quotes spring clip at 18@21c for good shipping grades.

Merchants here, whose attention have been particularly called to the complaints of growers, say that they cannot, without risk, pay more than 18c for a great part of the wool coming into market, and that only the best grades are bringing 21c.

Cotton goods are duller and prices are tending downward.

Weekly Retail Family Market.

Portland, June 14, 1867.

Business has improved. Green fruit is plentiful, and cheap. The last steamer brought a large shipment of sweet oranges; prices have declined. Groceries remain at about the quotations of last week. Poultry is lower. Game is out of market. Eggs are firmer and prices have advanced 2c ⅌ doz. Vegetables are in limited supply and prices are high, with a firm market. The butter market shows very little sign of improvement; the low prices ruling for some time back have prevented the arrivals usual to this season; nevertheless, the supply is equal to the demand and the prospects for an advance are far off

Consumption like the Rattle Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, are the indications that there is more or less irritation of the lungs If this be neglected, and go on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles, which sometimes eat off the blood vessels, death will be the result Allen's Lung Balsam will heal the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, removing the phlegm and matter, thus stopping the cough, and preventing fatal consumption. The Boat will be delivered in perfect order, free from all incumbrance, and Warranty Deeds made for the real estate, to the persons drawing the same. Tickets can be had of C. P. DR. HENLEY'S

Fountain of Life!

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARRIVE when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts which light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the disease of

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance.

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world! No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be [illegible] and certainly arrested in its progress only by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting.

Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and remove the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made—provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L. L. Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a [illegible] effect it had in a short time, in cases [illegible] had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

GOOD GRUB AND PLENTY OF IT

AT THE

Bennett House

SALEM, OREGON.

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED [illegible] is prepared to accommodate the traveling public and ONE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS, in as good style as any House on the Coast. He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any other house in Salem. He will soon complete some [illegible] improvements, which will add greatly to its [illegible] and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to be the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to [illegible] the culinary department, and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap-trap, pomp and show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

His Bar-room will be kept warmed and lighted, and well supplied with newspapers, periodicals and other suitable reading matter, and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort.

In short, he intends making an effort to please all who stop at the Bennett House. And he most respectfully requests his friends everywhere to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before [illegible] they can do as well elsewhere, and promises if they are not well treated, and properly cared for, and at reasonable figures, it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,

L. JAY S TURNEY.

N. B.—Furnished rooms, with or without board, by the day, week or month, at the Bennett; charges moderate. L. J. S. T.
